Customer Reviews

This book review is written by professional Chinese teachers at eChineseLearning: This teaching material is suitable for beginning Chinese learners ages six to ten. This set of teaching material includes four books, and each book contains sixteen lessons. Each lesson has a text, new vocabulary, exercises and so on. This set of teaching material adopts the method of placing Chinese characters together with their respective Chinese pinyin. It is very convenient for students who have no foundation of Chinese learning with which to learn Chinese. In addition, each lesson makes two Chinese characters the key learning objects. This can satisfy the needs of parents who want their kids to lay a foundation of Chinese characters during their early years. The whole book is furnished with brightly-colored and cute illustrations which should motivate and inspire kids to learn Chinese. Compared to other kids' Chinese teaching materials on the market, this set of teaching materials avoids the flaw of not staying true to life. The content of the text is very practical. Everything the kids learn from the lessons can be used in real life in just a short time. This set of teaching materials is very consistent and has a good combination of both new knowledge and review. Each text will help kids learn new things and review content they have learned before. As kids are often very curious and don't like repetitive exercises, this combination of the old and the new helps kids to lay an effective foundation of the Chinese language. In this set of teaching materials, each lesson is accompanied by exercises which cover different aspects of the language, such as new vocabulary, sentences, Chinese characters, Chinese pinyin and so on.
